

Code of Ethics

I . CEO Message

Over the past 50 great years, our company, POSCO, has always been able to thrive with business integrity and ethical practices, despite numerous challenges and hardships that came our way.

As we take our first step into the second half of our century-long legacy, I encourage you to keep in mind that POSCO is a corporate citizen which needs to coexist and prosper together with the stakeholders, such as shareholders, customers, suppliers, partners, local communities and employees.

“Doing the right things the right way” is the philosophical foundation of our ethics management and we must further evolve with our stakeholders in order to prepare ourselves for the society’s ever-changing demands and values.

In order to achieve this, we must be transparent and fair in all of our decisions with respect and consideration for others. In particular, mutual growth with smaller sized businesses, based on trust, will further strengthen our competitiveness.

It is our goal to reform our working environment, to place priority in real value over formality, execution over mere reporting, and diligence over justification. We must ask ourselves every day whether we are violating such ethical standards when we’re tied up with perfunctory reporting rather than the actual work.

As the world’s most competitiveness steelmaker, POSCO will continue to grow as a trusted and admired company, should we hold onto these basic principles within the ethics management.

Fellow employees!

We must enroot the ethical awareness in our thoughts and behaviors to establish a quality culture of cooperation and consideration for our future generations. Proud, confident POSCO men and women building a better future together, With POSCO, We’re the POSCO.

September 2018
POSCO CEO Choi Jeongwoo

II. Ethics Standards

1. Preamble

This code of ethics establishes the ethical values and behavioral standards that must be preserved and developed by all POSCO Group employees by inheriting the foundation spirit of patriotism in steelmaking based on sacrifice and service while reflecting the new spirit of the times.

It is our unchanging value to establish a corporate image that can be trusted by all stakeholders with the highly prioritized value criteria of integrity, fairness and honesty.

As a result, POSCO enacted the code of ethics in 2003 that must be adhered to by all employees, and explicitly included the US Human Rights that claim to support respect for human life and dignity in 2014. At this time, POSCO has amended the code of ethics with tighter ethical standards according to the intent of management innovation that places the highest value on ethics in management.

This code of ethics consists of the preamble, followed by the principles of ethics that reflect compliance and responsibility of employees regarding the code of ethics, and practical guidelines that set the standard for ethical decision-making.

All employees of POSCO Group must strictly comply with the principles of ethics and practical guidelines set by this code of ethics in all aspects of business.

This is how we all can proudly preserve the credibility of POSCO as we know it today, formed by the blood, sweat, and tears of our founding members.

2. Principles of Ethics

① Duty of Compliance with the Code of Ethics

- We must comply with related rules and regulations in all areas of the world where POSCO is conducting business operations.
- We must retain our dignity as POSCO employees and make efforts to maintain the company's reputation.
